[2012-2013]

“College is so much more than going to class...If you limit your experience to just that, you are not taking full advantage of the tuition and fees you are paying to go to school. Becoming involved is not only a resume builder; getting involved builds character and relationships. Getting involved provides meaning and context for what you learn in the classroom---it is putting theory into practice.”

Gail Wells-Director of Student Life.
